GOOD RACING AT GLOVER

The largest crowd of the season saw the most exciting races the club has held this winter Saturday, February 11.

Class A was fought out by Prince and Patsey. These horses are very evenly matched and gave the crowd all they were looking for. Class B was won by Grey's Little Brown mare but had to keep a knitting to do it.

Christie in Class C stepped a good race winning from Loretta B, best two out of three.

Class D was well fought from start to finish, taking five heats to decide the winner. These horses have won one race apiece and the crowd is looking forward to the final race.

Class E was made up of all new horses and the race was very good for horses that have not raced before this winter.

In Class F the horses were well matched and gave the crowd a good race.

BARTON BUSINESS ACTIVITIES

Seaver Hardware Store, Martin Grocery and Main Street Lot Change Hands.

Important business transactions have taken place in Barton during the past week and more are reported to be in the making.

The H. T. Seaver hardware business was purchased last week by J. G. Martin and W. R. Moulton, both being well-known Barton citizens who have a wide acquaintance and business experience. Mr. Martin has owned the grocery store operated for many years by E. B. Robinson (but more recently owned by J. C. King and W. R. Moulton) coming here from South Albany less than a year ago. Mr. Martin was in the mercantile business in South Albany several years before moving to Barton. Mr. Moulton owned a farm in Barton, on the Evansville road, for several years, moving to town in 1920 and buying the grocery store referred to above as being owned by him and later by Mr. Martin. Mr. Moulton also has an extended acquaintance and the combination ought to make a strong concern. Both men own fine residences in town and are active members of the community.

The business will be conducted under the name of the Barton Hardware Corporation, Messrs. Moulton and Martin owning a controlling interest in the business, but Mr. Seaver also retains an interest in the business, though he does not intend to be active in its management.

Mr. Seaver has been in business in Barton for 38 years, the longest continuous record of any business man in town, and exceeded by only one or two in length of years. In part payment for his business, Mr. Seaver takes the Martin grocery which he will continue at present. Mr. Seaver is one of Barton's most popular and honored citizens and that he is not to cease business activities is pleasing to all.

Another transaction of considerable importance is the transfer of the "Woodman" lot on Main street, owned by C. A. Nute for a year or more, to Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Larabee. Mr. Larabee has conducted his heating and plumbing business from his residence on Glover street for some time and is determined to have a place of business nearer the center of the town. While his plans have not matured for definite announcement it is determined that a block will be erected upon the plot this season. This is one of the best business locations remaining vacant in Barton and a block here will make a splendid addition to the street.

These activities speak well for the future growth and business of Barton.

Class D—
Fanny W, Albert Tyler 2 1 1 2 1
